A FEW REMARKS

—By—

The Wise Man About Town

I heard the other day that Engineers' row had begun to sport a symphony club—what ever that means—and that many of our musicians had enrolled as members. One of our local Judges is to blow the cello—whatever that means—while each member is to stand at a moments notice from the director of the club who happens to be no less a personage than my esteemed friend, Prof. Sousa. The symphoniers will surely do some symphing if Joe leads them, for he can play to beat the band.

When I hear—as I frequently do—the get-together wail from those who constitute the population of our little berg; it reminds me of the ass who ran up against a stack of hay and set up a bray because he couldn't eat it all at one mouthfull. It is up to those who are so intensely interested in such an unobtainable condition affairs to go to it instead of burdening their acquaintances with their troubles.

A lady whom I know slightly doesn't quite agree with the old story that chicken pox belongs exclusively to the chicken family—at least if it ever had any relation at all to the feathery tribe it must have been winged down from the Rhode Island Reds, or the speckled bantam.

A friend of mine whose hens produce a few golden shekles now and then for him, and who is supposed to be pretty well up in poultry raising has been found ignorant of the kind of hen that lays the longest. He did say, however that he had hens which, while they yielded good returns from their eggs, yet were always Barred.

Are you engaged? Well now if you are not, you should go and see the Makaweli bunch "Engaged." Of course I understand that it is a play all right enough, but as some big writer before my time has said, "This world is a big stage and we are all actors, etc.," and I'll miss my guess very badly if there is not more reality in that dog-gone play than the old inquisitive public is aware of. I've been on the stage and I've also been "engaged," so guess I ought to know whereof I speak.

As I gazed on the fluffy cluster of bedecked femininity at the teachers' convention last Friday, I was struck with the good judgment the Board of Education displays in its selection of teaching material. What puzzles me however is that there are so many of them single. Of course there is but one reason for this state of affairs—our boys are too slow. They were sure a pretty combination, being enchanting enough to melt the heart of a wooden Indian cigar sign. And the way they can teach! Why had I been handled as daintily as these misses performed on their little bits of human machinery, its ten to one that I'd been safely ensconced in the presidential chair, or even holding down the postmastership at Hanamaulu. How about the men teachers? O, they don't count—at least for any very considerable amount.

They're Bridgewater' Brodie, Bush and Brown, Each equipped a tin-pan crown And Simpson, Smith and Prigge Whose domes are awful biggy. That's all.

The red and yellow folders known as "your tax returns," were handed me the other day and with all my intelligence I could not figure out how much property I had, where I lived, whether I had anything coming or not, nor, in fact, could I learn after a day's perusal, what my first move was. Fortune smiled on me however, when a friend—a real friend—blew into my office and on being let in on a few points, the chief of which was that I had to swear, I bounded to my feet and talk about swearing! Why it was the one thing I had been just dying to do for hours, and so successful was I, that by the time the atmosphere cleared my friend had become a mere black speck

SOCIETY NOTES

A very delightful moonlight riding party to the barking sands was given by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen Jan. 18, 1913. About twenty five young people met their horses at Hoesa. A delicious pot supper was served at the beach house. After that the party resumed their trip to the sands.

On their way home they stopped at the beach house for a moonlight swim.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Eric Knudsen, Misses Alexandra Knudsen, Alexandra Schultze, Alexandra Danford, Maud O'Orange, Marie Anderson, Etta Lee, Ella Lee, Gertrude Hofgaard, Mattie Jordan, Rath, Messers. Banham, Deverill, Berg, Rankin, Rath, A. Brodie, Anser, Joe Fassoth and Martin Fassoth.

Polo, Yes?

That Polo is one of the Territory's most popular sports is signified by the recent departure of a crack island team that will compete with a picket Coast team. Kauai can congratulate herself on this event in so much as in Arthur Rice, who is a member of the party, and on the winning side.

Buy A Buick "40"

Y. Tim the popular Grove Farm auto service man has purchased a 1913 Forty Buick which is one of the best cars at present in the rent service. Tim says he has made such a hit with his new car that his patrons keep him on the go, and that 600 is the most popular telephone in Lihue District.

Butter by The Yard

It is not often that butter is offered by the yard, but as the Lihue Store always carries up to date supplies for discriminating purchasers, our readers will not be surprised to learn that the store has a block of Puritan butter on display which measures 2 by 3 feet. This is undoubtedly the largest roll of butter ever seen in the Territory.

SHIPPING AND MAIL

MAILS

Inter-Island Mails

Regular mail leaves Lihue on Tuesday and Saturday at 5 p. m.

Regular mail arrives from Honolulu Wednesday and Friday morning. During sugar season mail is frequently sent and brought by steamers making extra trips between regular mail days. On days when the coast mail is due, the mail boat due on Friday, will lay over and come in on Saturday morning instead.
